Additional Information:

Prior to 1 April 2016 Circuit International was known as Partners Relief & Development NZ and was part of a global alliance of Partners contributing countries providing funding for Partners projects in Thailand and Myanmar. However, the desire of Partners NZ personnel was to pursue programmes that would provide sustainable solutions to problems facing communities in South East Asia, particularly in Myanmar, solutions devised and operated by local communities with support from a charity. Since this desired emphasis was not supported by Partners internationally, Partners NZ decided to withdraw from the Partners Alliance and to rename and rebrand as Circuit International, a completely independent charity. In our 2017 Performance Report we will introduce the exciting new programmes that have started since April 1.
